

EL PASO PRACTICALLY ASSURED OF NEW IMMIGRATION STATION; TOTAL COST WOULD BE $565,000

EL PASO will get a new immigration station building, which, ground and all, will cost $565,000, if the next congress passes a public building bill. That was the information contained in a communication received Saturday from congressman Claude H. Rusk.

About a year ago F. W. Berkshire, inspector of immigration for the border district, recommended to the inspector of immigration that new building plans be provided for the immigration service at El Paso. Then congressman Rusk took the matter up and got it before the house. The house committee on public buildings referred the recommendation to the supervising architect of the treasury department. The treasury department sent an architect to El Paso to go over the grounds and study the needs of the immigration service. His report was made to the supervising architect. The supervising architect referred his findings to the house committee on public buildings and the report was the first information Mr. Berkshire has received since the architect was here.

It is proposed by the El Paso government to get a modern government building that will cost about $500,000. The site is estimated to cost $100,000. The appropriation has been recommended by congressman Rusk.

A report was received here once that a public health service building was being constructed at the river. If the new immigration building will be moved into it. The report just received here from Washington said John W. Langley of Kentucky, chairman of the building

EL PASO MEN AT WORK ON RELIEF BILL

Bills aimed at giving tax relief to farmers will be introduced in both houses of the Texas legislature. One bill will be introduced in the senate by senator R. M. Dudley and one in the house by J. E. Quinn.

The bills, if passed, will make state and county taxes payable in quarterly installments as follows: February 5, May 1, August and November 1. Under the present law taxes must be paid before January 21 or a penalty of 10 percent is added.

Such a tax law is badly needed in Texas this year, according to senator Dudley and representative Quinn, due to unfavorable conditions on the farm. Prices have become depressed in some cases below production costs. Many farmers have been forced to pay taxes all at once, the men believe.

By introducing the bill in both houses a conference committee can get them together with less delay than would ensue if the bill were introduced in one house only and left to the committee.

LACK OF DEMAND CLOSES
12 COAL MINES, 1500 MEN OUT

Muskogee, Okla., Dec. 31.—Between 1200 and 1500 coal miners at Greenwood, Ark., Weaver and Iowa, Okla., have been laid off from their jobs last night when 12 mines of the Consolidated Coal company and associated companies suspended operations, president R. D. Price said. Lack of demand for coal is responsible for the suspension, he said.

WILSON DEFEAT ROBS COLBY OF HIS PRESTIGE

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 31.—Much of the importance of the visit of Bainbridge Colby, American secretary of state, to South America has been lost, from the standpoint of international policy, because the incoming Republican administration "surely" will not accept the doctrine of president Wilson or continue his policy," said El Mercurio today.

In commenting upon the secretary's trip, however, the newspaper admitted it was of continental interest as a new manifestation of a desire to strengthen inter-American relations. "The high humanitarian idealism of Wilson was defeated," the newspaper continued, "and we do not know as yet how far Mr. Harding will carry the tendency of his party toward continental pride and imperialism. We must suppose, however, that this tendency has been modified by the requirements of the times and the new currents dominating the world."

ARIZONIANS SEEK TARIFF
WALL FOR WOOL, COTTON, OILS

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 31.—Arizona's Democratic representatives in congress are being urged to get behind the new tariff bill in every way that can serve to wall off the influx of foreign wool, long staple cotton and vegetable oils. Special attention is being paid locally to the wool, which cotton seed and cotton oils have been and congressmen Hayden has been asked to see if he cannot forward legislation looking toward prohibition of imports of vegetable oils, including those from peanuts, soy beans and coconut.

RAILWAYS IN BERLIN SHOW HEAVY LOSSES

Berlin, Ger., Dec. 31.—Street railways in Berlin have been operated at a loss of 45,000,000 marks during the first nine months of municipal ownership, and in spite of increased fare it is estimated this loss will reach 60,000,000 marks before the end of the first year. Fare already have been increased from 30 to 40 pfennigs and it is proposed to further increase them to one mark.

Increased wages and higher costs for power are given as the chief reasons for the large deficit.

Although employees have been given several wage increases, demands for more pay have been always pending, with the threat of strike if they are not granted.

In view of the financial situation and ever increasing wage demands it has been suggested that a committee be created to keep workers informed about the operation and cost of the street railway system, in the hope that well informed employees will be moderate. Some of the supporters of municipal plan is being discredited by workers who make unusual demands and threats.

They also demand a more careful check on the management of the street railways, particularly with regard to expenditures.

Donkeys Cross Border.

Donkeys, Ariz., Dec. 31.—With dispatches coming in from New York, Chicago and Boston, portraying the worst drought of the century, United States southwestern borderlanders are making arrangements to see the old year out in Mexico.

Agua Prieta, Mexico, just across the border from this city, will greet the new year with a great feast. The city is one of the few towns on the American continent where scenes of the old frontier days still exist.

Creeps With Dryness.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 31.—The old year will be wheeled out and the new one will roll in here tonight with the crackling and noise of a great drought. That liberation will be lacking at all the public observances of the occasion was indicated today when hotel and restaurant keepers instead of making their invitations "Mr. X, Y, Z, (bring your own liquor)" sent out word that they would serve with prohibition enforcement officials to prevent any private stocks being brought to tables in their places.

Notwithstanding the new order of things, reservations for tables have been taken to capacity.

No Liquor in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 31.—Clevelanders will welcome the new year tonight with dancing and feasting at downtown hotels and clubs, but hotel and club managers announce there must be no liquor.

One-Half Percent Only.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 31.—Although the staff of Frank D. Richardson, supervising prohibition agent, is too limited to keep watch on all places where celebrators will gather tonight to welcome the new year, every effort will be made, he said, to keep the lid clamped down tight.

Fifty agents, including both men and women, have been mastered into service by Mr. Richardson. "One-half of 1 percent" is the only exemption Mr. Richardson will allow the celebrants.

Dry Force Augmented.

New York, Dec. 31.—One hundred prohibition enforcement agents will mingle with the crowds in hotels and restaurants along the "white way" tonight and "banish" celebrators in a dry welcome to the new year. The agents, who will be split up into small flying squads, have been instructed to clamp the lid down.

Managers of leading hotels have ordered their employees not to handle liquor "in any way" and the indications point to a safe and sane greeting to 1921.

Dry On The Coast.

San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 31.—The birth of 1921 will be celebrated here tonight with the usual noise-making devices by celebrants parading the streets but it is predicted the hotels, cafes and restaurants will be quiet, crowded with former years.

Hotels and cafes reported all reservations taken although the word has been given out that "hip" parties will not be permitted. This will be the first "bone dry" New Year's eve that San Francisco ever has known.

STOMACH TROUBLES

City Still Dry—in Spots.

El Paso has not neglected its religious side, either. It has been estimated that 11 percent more persons attend church now than attended a year ago, on a basis of population. That does not mean that more people go to church simply because there are more people, but that a larger percentage of people are going to church with reasonable regularity.

While good things have been increasing, bad things have been decreasing. Arrests for misdemeanors have decreased possibly 25 percent during the year, according to police Judge Charles E. Pollock. Violent crimes have decreased much more than the good things.

Though we still have hoose, 1920 had no places for publicly dispensing it and no people to use for shooting galleries.

The city has a fine new skyscraper in the two Republics building. It has a scenic drive as good as any anywhere. It has a privately owned flying field. It did not have a year ago. It has a movie company, never before. It has a military establishment, never before. It has a lot of men in men, as it was a year ago. In view of these and many more things the city has a bright future. Should not El Paso take the advice of its business men and—
